ONCC Runway Program™

Your journey to certification begins here.

The ONCC Runway Program charts your learning and development path toward becoming an Oncology Certified Nurse (OCN®).

This new program is grounded in the Oncology Nurse Generalist Competencies and guides you in selecting learning opportunities that meet your development needs to move you closer to OCN® certification program eligibility.

The Runway Program is a perfect companion for any oncology nurse with the goal of obtaining the OCN certification.

- ✓ Assessment of work-related behaviors
- ✓ Competency-based goal setting
- ✓ Mentoring experience to bolster your success
- ✓ Curated guidance for your learning
- ✓ Recommended educational experiences
- ✓ OCN® Practice Test

The Runway Program offers structured goal setting and a work behaviors and personal preferences assessment. These tools, coupled with a mentoring component and exercises to guide professional development planning, help you create a customized learning experience. Program learning requirements are competency-based and can be fulfilled through multiple avenues. Choose courses offered through approved NCPD providers like the Oncology Nursing Society (ONS) or non-NCPD programming. Options offered by your employer or other educators qualify, too. The Runway Program is hosted via the same platform used for ONCC certification renewal—so you'll already be familiar with it once you're certified and need to renew.

The Runway Program provides structured learning and other activities to pace your early oncology nurse career development and work towards obtaining the OCN® certification.

Participants have 12 months to complete all Runway Program requirements—keeping you on track and aligning with the typical amount of full-time employment (when worked 100% in oncology) needed to earn the oncology nursing practice hours for OCN® program eligibility.

Completing the Runway Program earns a digital badge and certificate of completion. You will even receive an OCN® Practice Test to use within 24 months of Runway Program purchase; available for 14 days from first access.

Program Cost*: $175

 The program fee does not include the cost of educational programs participants choose to complete to meet program requirements, or any ONCC certification exam fee.*

The Runway Program will be in pilot Summer 2025 and available widely by Winter 2025. General information is available on the ONCC website at www.oncc.org/runway-program.
